

I've always wanted to be a teacher, as a child I remember as a child playing at teacher with my teddies and a toy blackboard. I remember doing this in a childcarers. I don't know how old I was.

I always needed extra help in school and everyone knew it. I want to be a teacher that helps or works with the struggling children in the class and as a lover of books instil that love into everyone.

During my school holidays in secondary school, I used to volunteer in a Montessori school summer camp. I always loved those summer days helping with the little children and the teachers attitude to everything made me want to become a Montessori teacher.
